

This is Sample pdf file. Text summarization is the process of creating a concise, accurate representation of a longer text, extracting the most important information while preserving its meaning. It's a valuable tool for quickly understanding large amounts of text and is used in various applications, including news articles, research papers, and legal documents.